HALE THEATER

On Saturday, August 23rd, we had a most enjoyable evening that was coordinated by Mike Konyu and Judy Dakin – our Activity Co-Chairs.

We started out at the Liberty Market in downtown Gilbert and enjoyed a delectable dinner. From there, we went to the fabulous HALE THEATER in downtown Gilbert. The Broadway Musical FOOTLOOSE was absolutely fantastic. The music, the dancing, and the story – well – here's a little recap:

City-boy, Ren, and his mother have just moved to a small town where dancing is a crime thanks to the efforts of an ultra-conservative pastor. Sparks fly when the pastor's daughter befriends Ran while her former boyfriend plays on the fears of the many locals who are eager to believe the worst of the new kid in town.

From the moment this dance-filled musical opened, we weren't able to stop moving our feet! It was a joyous production filled with music and dancing that lightened our hearts and took us to an "Almost Paradise" state of mind. I think we were all ready to cheer when they sang - "Let's Hear It for the Boy." It was a memorable evening!
